Alderstone purchasing agreement

ASC 2026 04 Effective April 1 2026

1 Parties and scope

Larkspur Outdoor Co. purchases packaging components from Alderstone Components LLC. Agreement ASC 2026 04 applies only to SKU PK-A and PK-B. All amounts are USD. This agreement states all commercial and tax rules for this settlement exercise; no external legal or tax assumptions are needed.

2 Prices and delivery

Unit prices are PK-A $9.25 and PK-B $13.00. Use the accepted delivery date, not invoice date, to select the applicable price schedule. Freight is billed at the invoice amount unless a signed amendment changes it. If accepted delivery is blank, hold the invoice for receiving confirmation rather than choosing a price schedule.

3 Early payment discount

A 1.5% early payment discount applies to net goods only when the planned full settlement date is no more than 10 calendar days after invoice date, including day 10, and no positive net settled payment remains on the invoice at the review cutoff. A fully reversed payment does not disqualify it. Freight is excluded. Apply approved goods credits first, then calculate the discount. Never apply a discount to an invoice excluded from this payment batch.

4 Tax and rounding

The taxable base is corrected goods less accepted goods credits and eligible discount, plus allowed freight. Tax is 7.5% of that entire base. Round each invoice discount to cents first, then round tax to cents, using decimal half up. Subtract net settled bank cash only after tax. Credits are before tax; do not subtract a second tax credit. Do not use tax or open amounts cached in the ERP as the final liability.

5 Credit evidence

Accept only APPROVED credits posted on or before the review cutoff. Issued date alone is insufficient. Count each credit_id once; repeated export rows of the same credit_id are not additional credits. Ignore VOID and SUPERSEDED records, even if their amount differs from the replacement. Do not apply credits from another invoice. Approved credits supplied here reduce goods only.

6 Bank evidence

Bank events are authoritative for cash. A SETTLED event on or before cutoff reduces its named invoice; a REVERSAL on or before cutoff restores that amount. Reversal amounts are positive magnitudes and reference the earlier settlement. PENDING and FAILED events are not settled cash. Ignore every event dated after cutoff, including later reversals. Do not treat ERP open gross as evidence of cash settlement.

7 Payment selection

Include OPEN invoices due on or before the planned payment date. Keep future-due, fully settled, overpaid, VOID and unresolved-receipt invoices out of the batch. A PENDING payment on or before cutoff requires HOLD PENDING and zero new cash, while the accounting balance remains outstanding. Do not use a future bank event to release that hold.

8 Reconciliation and precedence

The same invoice_id can appear on multiple export rows; identical duplicates count once. Show one output row per unique invoice ID, retain excluded rows with a reason and disclose duplicate row IDs. Signed amendments override the base agreement only within their stated effective scope. Signed terms outrank ERP invoice pricing, billed tax and cached open balances. Missing acceptance evidence makes corrected liability undetermined, not zero.
